LEIDOS HEALTH KEYNOTE SPEAKER TO PRESENT AT MUSE EXECUTIVE INSTITUTE

Anne Marie Herrera to Discuss Strategic Planning for CIOs

RESTON, Va. (January 16, 2014) – Leidos Health’s Anne Marie Herrera will present the keynote address at the MUSE Executive Institute, to be held at the Coronado Island Marriott in San Diego, Calif., January 19-21.

Herrera, vice president of strategy and business development for Leidos Health’s MEDITECH practice, will present “Bringing It All Together – Strategy Planning, Alignment, Prioritization and Execution” on Monday, January 20 at 8:30 a.m. PT. The presentation will address the need for hospital executives to engage, collaborate, develop, and commit to an IT strategic roadmap that that aligns and supports their overall business strategies and goals. In addition, the discussion will address the realities that healthcare leaders face today in a resource-challenged environment, and provide insights on executing for success.

The Medical Users Software Exchange (MUSE) is a community of MEDITECH users and related professionals who interact to learn and share their knowledge and experience. Through MUSE, members network, solve problems, identify best practices, and improve performance for their organizations. Driven by the success of the first Executive Institute, the second MUSE Executive Institute offers even more support and advice on sharing of policies, ideas, and solutions to problems, as well as colleague-to-colleague interaction.
